BATTLE OF NEW-ORLEANS.

1. On the morning of the 1st of January, 1815, Sir Edward Packenham was discovered to have constructed batteries near the American works, and at daylight commenced a heavy fire from them, which was well returned by General Jackson. A bold attempt was, at the same time, made to turn the left of the Americans; but in this the enemy was completely repulsed. The British retired, in the evening, from their batteries, having spiked their guns, and
